Good day

IJF Sympathy

The Covid-19 virus is currently in its third wave, in most of the world. This wave is getting much closer to us than the previous two. So many of us have had to sacrifice loved ones to death over the past few weeks. Our condolences to those members and family.

Our jukskei players are like one big family. We might differ from one another, but in difficult times we live close to each other, we care for each other and we carry each other through it in unity in prayer. That is why the IJF Exco would like to dedicate each one of you to our Heavenly Father for his protection from this virus because all of you are important for our beloved game, Jukskei.

Please stay safe and also stay positive in this uncertain time that the virus brings.

Kind regards

Dirk Brits
